OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 10, 1866.

The political world was a good deal shocked by the rumor of the death of Senator Lane of Kansas. He left here some time ago in a singular frame of mind. Some people thought him mad; others saw in his erratic and eccentric conduct only a troubled conscience. To be honest with the man, and to omit the usual lying eulogies of a public man after he is dead, I must say that he was a political knave and a bad citizen. In short he was dishonest. He attempted to take his own life for a variety of reasons: no doubt he was partially deranged, yet there were reasons for the disease of his mind. He dreaded exposure in some of his Indian transactions, but the blow that struck him hardest was the loss of the friendship of the leading Republicans in Kansas. Being a dishonest politician, Mr. Lane began to bargain with President Johnson when he came here last December. The President is all-powerful with such men as Lane, for he is positive in his character and does not hesitate to make square offers of patronage for political support. Lane was always excited when anybody was willing to offer "a consideration" for a vote, and it was soon perceived that he could not be relied upon to vote with his party friends. I shall not soon forget that memorable scene when, in reply to a hint from Trumbull, of Illinois, Lane exclaimed at the top of his voice, "I never wear a collar!" It was a ludicrous scene, for his exclamation was meant to intimate that he was the very last man in the Senate upon whom the President could fasten his collar! Yet at that very moment Lane was meditating a fresh piece of treachery. Then after he had humiliated himself, the President deserted him on the New York Collectorship! After that he came around to the Republicans and claimed that henceforth they could rely upon him. He had begun to hear from Kansas in such a way that he could not mistake the temper of the people. Then there were rumors of "startling developments" in some of Lane's Indian transactions. When he went home to Kansas his friends cut him, and he was ready to take his own life.

The debate in the Senate a few days since upon the proposition to release the line of China steamers from touching at Honolulu was very interesting. I was not a little amused at one passage in which Senators Fessenden, Conness, and Stewart were mixed up. I must quote from the Globe a little of it:

Mr. Fessenden. I shall not attempt to follow or reply to my honorable friend from Nevada, (Mr. Nye.) I cannot use the fine language that he does, and I have not the imagination that he has. It is, though of course superior in quality, of the same kind with very much that I have heard for a great while, in fact ever since I have been here. Whenever anything of this sort was proposed to be undertaken, it was always said to be a great enterprise and great sacrifice and great public spirit on the part of those that were involved. They never have their own interests in view; they only seek to enlarge and increase the grandeur of the Republic! That is the case here undoubtedly. But let us look a little to see whether they are not bargainers like ourselves—a little of the Yankee about them. Take this contract as it is in the law, and what is it? That they shall establish a monthly line and perform twelve round trips per year in a certain direction and touching at certain points. Now, the Senator says, rapidity is everything, and they want to be released from the contract to touch at Honolulu because they can go quicker; but where is the contract to have more than a monthly line and more than twelve round trips a year? That is all conveniently left out, so that in fact when we pass this measure we have simply relieved them from their obligation to touch at Honolulu, and they then stand upon their original contract for the twelve round trips and nothing more, and are not bound to go a particle faster or any quicker or do anything more.

Mr. Conness.—My friend will allow me to say that there was no contract requiring the Pacific Mail Steamship Company to carry the mails oftener than semi-monthly between New York and Aspinwall, Panama and San Francisco, but the company put on an additional number of ships there without any requirement by contract to do so, and now carry the mails tri-monthly.

Mr. Fessenden.—That is because it pays them to do so, and there are rival lines competing with them. Now, this question is whether this trade will pay. We do not know. This proposition is simply that we shall surrender a part of the contract and get nothing in return. The Senator talks largely and liberally about what these contractors want to do. They say the company will increase their speed; that time is everything. But, what is time to them in comparison with their own particular interests, unless there is the competition of some rival line, or something of that sort? Sir, it is nothing but the modest proposition that we shall give up a large and important part of our contract and not ask them in return to do anything more than they contracted to do before, so that if it is perfectly convenient and profitable for them to go quicker they will do so; not otherwise.

Mr. Stewart.—I do not wish to interrupt the Senator; but I desire to suggest that they have a stronger inducement than might be at first supposed to make the time. They have no trade now, and unless they make quicker time than the English and French they never will get any.

Mr. Fessenden.—The English and French do not go from this side.

Mr. Stewart.—They go from the Isthmus.

Mr. Fessenden.—They do not go from this side, and will not be likely to go by slow ships.

Mr. Stewart.—That does not alter the case.

Mr. Fessenden. I am talking to sensible men as I trust and know. Gentlemen speak about "inducements." The amount of it is you give up the money and give up the bargain and rely upon "inducements." If they can do it and will do it, put it in the bond, and do not talk about inducements.

Mr. Conness. They have more than put it in the bond.

Mr. Fessenden. How?

Mr. Conness. By building greater ships and more costly ones than were required.

Mr. Fessenden. Who asked them to build greater ships? They do it simply because they think they can make more money by it, because they will carry more goods. Our contract is that they shall build ships equal to a certain amount of power. If they build larger ones it is because they think they can make more money by so doing; it is for their own benefit."

The feeling of Congress is that this is a great enterprise and that it shall be properly encouraged. It is the same with the Pacific railroad. The inclination of the majority is not to squander money on a dozen lines, but to spend it freely on the one that has the best prospect of success. This is a good policy I am sure, and whether it is or not, Congress is tolerably certain of pursuing it—that is so long as it is republican. No doubt there will be a change when the rebels get back (if they ever do) and join hands with Copperhead and Johnson Republicans.

The country is not a little agitated over the new Tariff Bill, which has passed the House and gone to the Senate. It threatens to divide the Republican party in some States. Pennsylvania goes for it with vehemence, in spite of Thad. Stevens' assertion that it was not a "protective" tariff. Iowa, on the other hand, is very strongly against it. Some of the Western Republicans favor the measure. Garfield, of Ohio, for instance, did more than any other man in the House to raise the duty on wool. Yet in spite of these facts, the opposition prints are denouncing New England as the author of the bill. It is grossly untrue, and Senator Wilson, of Massachusetts, is so tired of listening to the false charge, that he took occasion to get up in his place and deny the allegation, and also to give notice that he should oppose the measure when it came into the Senate. He further declared that it was "a north-western measure," and that it did not have its origin in New England. The Republicans are divided on the bill, but a majority (and a large majority), are for its adoption. I am now speaking of the House.

It is also true, I suppose, of the Middle States. The Republicans of New England do not care so much about the bill, for its manufacturers lose as well as gain by its provisions. The woolen manufacturers do not desire a high duty on wool.

It is amusing to notice the course pursued by two of the leading papers in New York on this bill, and both are Republican. The Tribune is a steady advocate of it, and the only daily paper in New York that does take that side of the question. It is very much in earnest, and does not hesitate to "call names" in the course of its arguments. The Evening Post, which is also Republican in politics, denounces the tariff bill as an atrocious swindle, and invokes a veto from the President. If it passes the Senate it is quite probable that it will be vetoed unless the Senate greatly modifies the character of the measure. I am happy to notice that the Republican members seem determined that disagreements on this subject shall not affect their party relations or friendships. The tariff bill is not a party test, and must not be insisted on as such. Men stand for or against the bill as they please, and are still good Republicans. This is as it should be. Thad. Stevens would be glad to force all Republicans into support of the bill under a threat of expulsion from the party, but he cannot carry the party along with him on this point. The President would like to make an issue with Stevens and other high-tariff men and go to the people with it, but the country will not forget the war and the rebellion simply to establish free trade, and they are aware that it is as good a way to let this long-disputed question of high or low tariffs be settled by a body of men who are untrammeled by party dictation. The present Congress is not instructed or committed on this question, and is at liberty to settle it according to the convictions of the majority. The New York Herald is very fierce in its appeals to Mr. Johnson to veto it and to raise an issue with the Republican party, but there is Mr. Seward who all his life has been a high tariff advocate and he cannot very well turn round and go against a protective tariff. He will, however, do almost anything to secure popularity for Mr. Johnson and himself.

Senator Trumbull is urging that Congress should not adjourn until a law has been passed limiting the power of the Executive over offices. The bill reported by him from the Judiciary Committee is a fair measure, and one the President should be ready to accept. It is so late in the session, that I doubt whether the bill can pass; but if Congress had time, two-thirds could be found, I believe, to pass it over a veto. It would be a good law on the statute books for any Administration.

The prospects of the new Copperhead-Rebel-Union party, which is to hold a grand National Convention at Philadelphia, are not good in spite of a good deal of noise made by the interested office-holders. Johnson and Seward are in with the movement, but I can state one important fact that Gen. Grant does not join the new movement. I know of what I affirm in this matter. The opposition are trying very hard to drag him over with them and with the President, but they will fail. Gen. Grant dislikes Mr. Seward's foreign policy extremely—especially in reference to Mexico—hence, Seward can have no influence over him in other matters.

STEAMER DAY.

THE NEW PARTY.—The new Conservative party is likely to be swamped at the outset of its career on the shoals of the patent Democracy, of which Ben Wood and C. L. Vallandigham are the exponents. When the call for the Philadelphia Convention was first issued, the Democratic journals stood aloof, warning their readers to have nothing to do with it. Latterly, however, the editors of these journals would seem to have been vouchsafed new light upon the subject, for they are nearly all coming out flat-footed in favor of sending delegates to the Convention. The New York World and the Daily News, both of which journals heartily denounced and ridiculed the project of the Convention, are now as heartily endorsing it and urging their friends to give it support. The Vallandighamists of the West are also loud mouthed in its favor, while the Richmond "reconstructed" journals are not a whit behind their Northern and Western allies in pushing forward the movement. If Senator Doolittle and the other Republican conservatives don't find themselves outgeneraled in the Convention by the unredeemed Democracy, then there is no significance in political signs. It must be noted that there is one sturdy Democratic editor who yet stands aloof from the movement. Abbe McMasters, of the Freeman's Journal, denounces it as a Black Republican trick, with which "honest" Democrats should have as little sympathy as possible. "The Democrats," says Mr. McMasters, "have no reason to quit their own organization to take part in nursing any baby in swaddling clothes, for the benefit of the Blairs, Sewards and [illegible]."

The Abbe doubtless feels sore yet over the check given by Mr. Seward to the Fenian movement. But there is room for "more light" in his case, and therefore it would not surprise any one to see him one of these days standing side by side with Father Kinsella, of the Brooklyn Eagle, who denounced the Philadelphia project heartily in the beginning, as McMasters does now. It may be only a question of time and opportunity.

Many long headed politicians see in this Philadelphia movement the entering wedge for the total disruption of the old Democratic organization, and its [illegible] upon a more popular basis, with the Republican Conservatives as followers [illegible] of leaders under the new order of things. Ben. Wood and Brother Fernando—Vallandigham, Cox and Pendleton, together with other Copperheads [illegible] stripped of their disloyal skins by wholesome attrition with the loyalists of the new dispensation, will occupy the high seats in the synagogue, while to such of the Republican originators of the scheme as choose to remain will be assigned the back benches.

Wendell Phillips, in his Fourth of July oration—elsewhere alluded to—affirmed that President Johnson has no policy save that of being President through another term.—Bulletin's New York letter.

SEWARD AND SAULSBURY.—William H. Seward, who, not long since, declared himself the father of what is known as "my policy," and who is said to have left the ranks of the Republicans and gone after "new and strange gods," among the Democracy, was, on June 2d, thus [illegible] by the drunken Copperhead Senator (Saulsbury) from Delaware, in a party speech delivered by him in the Senate: "Seward is a member of your party (the Republican), gentlemen, not ours; you may talk about him as much as you please, but the Democratic has no such Captain. He rang that 'little bell' too often even to be a Lieutenant of our party."

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE.

TUESDAY MORNING AUGUST 14 1866.

The Pacific Railroads

The two railroads now in process of construction toward the Pacific from the east are to meet at Denver City and will therefrom constitute a single line The Omaha road has by this time reached Fort Kearney, and the iron rails are already obtained for a distance of 160 miles west of that place This line is pushed forward with vigor by Chicago and other northern cities, but it still lacks direct railway connections with the east—the projected road across the State of Iowa not yet being finished This road will, however, be completed by next spring and the gap closed up It is calculated that in one year this line will reach Denver

The rival line has Kansas City for its starting point, and is already connected by railway with St Louis It is being pushed forward with energy and is likely to reach the proposed junction almost as soon as the Platte Valley road Backed by St. Louis, and by the great commercial interests of the Ohio Valley, as its rival is supported by the equal city of Chicago and the commerce of the Lakes, every effort will be made to push it on to a rapid completion There is a race between the two roads, as there is a rivalry between the two cities, and the competition that is going on is likely to hurry both forward faster than a single line without the aid of this spirit of emulation, would be able to proceed.

The Californians are contending against the Sierras and are gradually working their way over them About 11,000 Chinese are employed on this portion of the road The work at both ends of the line is going on in earnest, and at last it begins to look as if there was a hope of realizing in a reasonable time the completion of this most gigantic enterprise of the age Our only regret in the matter is that the prospects for the Northern road are not such as will justify hopes of its equally early completion

The dispatches say efforts are being made by Doolittle & Co to exclude from the Toady Convention, "Vallandigham and other Northern delegates who refused to support the Government." This will be a bitter pill to those hypocritical and sycophantic Copperheads who have been, for the last few months, kissing the very dirt on the shoes of Doolittle, Johnson & Co , in the hope of gaining thereby some advantage over the "Radical" Union party We confess to a little exultation at seeing them thus "busted in the bugle" by the sole of Doolittle's boot the lickspittle crowd! though we have no greater confidence in the Doolittle motives than before But when two crowds are playing the Pecksniffian-Chuzzlewit serio-comedy of hypocrisy and deceit, each trying to outwit the other in a mutual, self-interested game at the pockets of a third party, it is something to laugh at to see the mortified rage of either of the defeated conspirators But, if Vallandigham and "other northern delegates who refused to support the Government" during the war, are to be excluded, who, in the name of everything probable or possible, is going to constitute the new party? The Doolittles who have apostatized from the Union party do not form a corporal's guard, in comparison with the great Union army The only possible chance to make a party even respectable in numbers or character, was to let in all the Copperheads and late rebels Does Johnson aspire to the imposing dignity of leading a faction of less numbers than that once headed by James G. Birney, or that by the redoubtable John Tyler? It would seem so

The Mountaineer in the course of a long article on the "Senatorial question" has a great deal to say against "Radicalism." It cautions the Union party in this wise. "Deny the matter as you please, the truth is patent to all that the radical course of members of Congress lost the Union party hundreds and hundreds of votes in the late State election. If you would have success at the polls you must be a little less radical." We are surprised that the Mountaineer should think that the Union party could secure Democratic votes by advocating Democratic doctrines. As to those who voted for Lincoln in 1864, we venture to say that there is not one per cent. of them in this State who do not endorse the "radical course of Congress" as regards the principal measures of the session, and as finally developed in the proposed reconstruction amendment. If the Mountaineer does not like the Union party, no doubt it can find some other organization with which it may very agreeably cast its lot. If it is going over to the Democracy, it should not stand so long on the order of its going, but go at once. As the New York Tribune lately said of the Evening Post, "its heart and its treasure being both in the camp of the anti-Republican, anti-everything coalition, it should convey its body thither directly, and not persist in making feints whereby no one is deceived, and affecting hesitations and dubitations which only provoke contempt."

Jesse Williams, Thomas H. Hayne, [illegible] & Co have failed thus far to announce any delegates to the Bread and Butter convention from the Pacific States S Seymour, on whom Oregon Copperheads had relied, having proved as hollow as fleeting as a dream, the responsibility must revert to the ubiquitous Doolittle If the matter had only been thought of a little sooner, the distinguished Col John Lane might have gone on and divided the honors with Doolittle and received further rewards for "gallant and meritorious services" Alas, 'tis too late , the convention meets to-day

The Sacramento Union clears up the mystery of the Oregon delegate, S Seymour, to the Philadelphia Convention Instead of reading, "From Oregon, S Seymour," the dispatch should have read, "Origen S. Seymour" who is a delegate from Connecticut. The dispatch was bungled by the operator at Marysville, in transmission to Oregon. So, Beriah and the other copperheads of Oregon are not represented, after all, and the offices to be made vacant will be bestowed on somebody else Make way for the mourners

Dangers threaten. The Constitution, the citadel of our liberties is directly assailed The future is dark unless the people will come to the rescue.—Address of Democratic Congressmen

In 1864, the Democracy pronounced the war a "failure" and talked about dark days; wanted a convention to try some other means than war for attaining peace, etc , etc The results of the war proved their talk of 1864 to be mere shallow claptrap, and coming events will prove the same in regard to the above copperhead twaddle

At present eleven States are excluded from the National Councils. For seven long months the present Congress has persistently denied any right of representation to the people of these States.—Address of Democratic Congressmen

For fifty long months, those eleven States persistently refused to be represented in the National Councils They persistently sent their representatives to a "foreign power"

President Johnson has been exchanging congratulations with the Queen of England The Flag is glad that he did not bore the lady with any remarks on his "policy," or offend her senses by any allusions to "dead ducks"

John Park, Mayor of Memphis, who was drunk during the recent massacre of negroes in that city, issued a Fourth of July proclamation, by which we judge that he has got sober He declares that "the principles of free Government, so faithfully and fearlessly contended for by our revolutionary forefathers should be reverentially remembered by their descendants," and adds "that they are the basis of our rights as derived from the martyrs of civil liberty in England " Had Memphis no martyrs then that might have taught Mr. Park a nobler lesson

Two Conventions

To-day, (August 14th,) will be held at Philadelphia the first general love-feast under the new political dispensation That imaginary period so slow of approach when all men are to be as brothers, and when there will no longer be such artificial distinctions as political parties is to be hurried forward by events which are to transpire to day Philanthropy is to be forced into a more rapid growth "Our misguided brethren" who lately transacted so large a business in the way of taking coats, are now to be urgently requested to take cloaks also to match For the past offences of all parties (except the Congressional Union party) there is to be the fullest condonation Men who went with their respective States, and men who went without their States in the days of the late political troubles (the harsh word "rebellion" is now dropped as its use serves only to prevent "reconciliation") to day are to be welcomed back into the national fold and suitably rewarded for their arduous labors in behalf of "State rights," and against "consolidation" Those defenders of our admirable system of Government, who achieved such noble victories for municipal liberty at Fort Pillow and Lawrence, or better still, at Andersonville, are to have their services acknowledged at the Philadelphia convocation, and themselves put in the way of laboring with better success for their inalienable rights hereafter than they have done heretofore There is danger of the utter loss of all that these Confederate patriots fought for , hence some remedy must be devised for the crisis that threatens Letcher and Smith, Ellis and Brown, Harris and Moore, all Governors of Southern States under the Confederate regime, solicitous as they are for the safety of the Union will go into council with their northern friends to deliberate upon measures for its preservation Curtin and Fenton, Cox and Morton, Hawley and Stone, Governors of States which, until "my policy" reversed the order of things, were honored for their fidelity to the Union, will be excluded from this patriotic council Gens Lee and Longstreet may attend , but Gens Grant, Howard and Geary cannot Northern men who never pretended to wish the Southern Confederacy to fail, may pass in unquestioned , but Southern men who were true to their country in the darkest hours of its trial, cannot gain admittance. Every person who believes the "Southern experiment" was justifiable and right, will receive a welcome , but no one who insists that the slave-holders' rebellion was a crime, will find the doors open to receive him.

Three weeks from this time, there is to be another Convention held in the same city where these new fledged patriots are now in deliberation This call is signed by persons whose love for the Union is not of a few days' or a year's growth, but by patriots whose sacrifices for their country attest their devotion to its cause The representatives of the true Unionists of the South will meet at Philadelphia on the 3d of September to confer together upon public affairs and to present to the country a true account of the state of things that exists among the hastily "reconstructed " Hamilton and Stokes and Maynard and Underwood and Botts, representative men among the Unionists of the South, will be present, and will appeal to the loyal people of the North to judge between them and their cause and the delegations led by A H Stephens and George H. Pendleton, and the cause they represent Will the always loyal Northern States heed the appeals of those gallant Southern men who have braved every danger for their country, or will it thrust them aside and listen to the counsels and adopt the policy of those who less than two years years ago were the chief actors in the great rebellion and the responsible heads of that wicked usurpation known as the Confederate Government? The next elections will tell

The wheat crop of Gallatin valley, it is estimated will reach 300,000 to 400 000 bushels.

A letter from Prickly Pear City says good prospects have been obtained from the bar on which that city is built Reports are rife of a stampede to Dry Gulch near Blackfoot.

A Bannack letter speaks very highly of the agricultural advantages of that district. The crops present a fine appearance Times begin to improve at Banack

The Seneca Falls mill, in Summit District in a total of forty-seven days runs, had cleaned up $12,324 34. The expense of running was about $150 per day

The Johnson State Convention —The "bread and butter" Convention held in San Francisco last week, to appoint delegates to Philadelphia, originated in San Jose The Mercury gives the following account of its incubation

The Alta of Sunday last contains a long telegraphic account of the proceedings of the Johnson Administration Club of Santa Clara county, publication of which caused a broad facial grin to spread over this community We cannot now call to mind the names of six persons in this county that voted for Lincoln who now endorse Andrew Johnson. There may be more We do not think the whole number exceeds a dozen Of this number three may be regarded as the working members of the "Club " The actual number in attendance at the meeting alluded to was just seven ! With all the gravity of a deliberative multitude this Club proceeds to call a State Convention and suggest the names of delegates to the Philadelphia Convention The whole thing is amusingly ridiculous, and the Alta helps along the farce. What has become of the fool-killer?

Official Recognition of a Timely Service. —Sergeant George F. Robinson, the Maine soldier who saved Secretary Seward's life by grappling with and forcing back his assassin, has written to Secretary Stanton asking for the knife which Payne used on that night of horrors His request has been granted, and the weapon is accompanied by a letter from the Judge Advocate General, which closes as follows

To Sergeant F. Robinson Your conduct on the occasion mentioned is now a matter of history, and none will hereafter doubt but that, by your self-possession and courage in grappling with the assassin, you contributed largely to save the life of the Secretary of State at the extreme hazard of your own—a most meritorious public service nobly rendered, and of which the weapon now committed to your keeping will be an enduring memento.

Very respectfully your obedient servant,
J HOLT, Judge Advocate General

Says the New York Tribune The Hon Thaddeus Stevens is named by the Lancaster Express as a candidate for United States Senator The manner of this announcement hardly permits us to doubt that Mr Stevens has at last yielded to the public wish and thrown his great moral strength into the breach of Pennsylvania politics It is to be expected that the complexion of the Senatorial contest in that State will be materially changed and the election of any third rate or accidental Senator prevented Mr Stevens himself, we judge, has become the man for the emergency

It is entirely proper that the convocation at which the place-seekers and would be leaders of the Northern left wing propose to fraternize with the keepers of Andersonville, Columbia and Millen prisoners, the murderers of wounded soldiers the hotel burners, the yellow fever conspirators and unpardoned, unrepentant traitors generally, should be held in the City of Brotherly Love

New York Aug. 11 —The morning papers have the following dispatches from Europe by the cable

London Aug. 9 —There is great excitement here this evening on the discovery of an attempt to blow up the Houses of Parliament by packages of gun powder with a fuse partially burned which were found near the entrance of the Lord Chamberlain's office in the House of Lords Members of Parliament have fear of another Guy Fawkes gun powder plot.

The deaths from cholera in London during last week were 1 [illegible] from diarrhoea 251

Berlin August 8 —General Manteuffel is a gatherer of a military council and had a favorable audience of the King left yesterday on a special mission to St. Petersburg. Referring to this the semi-official journal and provincial correspondents say that Russia by her position is a great power and also on account of her numerous family alliances with German courts takes a lively interest in the German question The relations subsisting between Russia and Prussia ought [illegible] suggest to Russia the expediency of making a confidential communication to the cabinet in Berlin in relation to the views entertained by the Czar's Government upon the recent steps adopted by Prussia Any apprehensions respecting the attitude attributed to Russia by certain German journals will in all probability speedily prove to be groundless The same journal [illegible] Prussian legislative chambers by passing a bill of amnity will end the conflict with the Government yesterday in the upper house of the legislature a letter was read from the Count of Westphalia declaring his oath of alliance with the King of Prussia and his duty as federal prince no longer binding on him since his Majesty had withdrawn from the German Confederation

Hearts Content August 9 —Her Majesty's ship Terrible and steamer Albany left Wednesday morning August 1st, and Great Eastern and Medway sailed on Thursday morning. All the vessels are fully supplied with coal and provisions. The members of the expedition are determined to recover and complete the cable of 1865 if possible The Great Eastern has about 600 tons of coal and provisions enough for a six months cruise

New York Aug. 10 —A Dispatch received from Major McKay at midnight dated Aspy Bay to-night states that the cable across the Gulf of St Lawrence from Aspy Bay to Port au Basque was under run by him to the depth of 45 feet fathoms that a portion of it lying in water of 60 fathoms deep was found imbedded in sand and was in a splendid state of preservation It was found to have been broken in two places by the anchors of fishing vessels It was lifted at a distance of thirteen miles from the shore but the night coming on very dark with a high gale accompanied by rain and heavy sea, they were obliged to cut the cable under Cape North where it was safely buried in thirty fathoms of water McKay states We shall still wait for a fine day to lay shore ends The cable tests well and there is not the least defect in it. New York will soon be in satisfactory telegraphic communication with London.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH

San Francisco, Aug 13.—The number of deaths in this city last week was 80. The excess of deaths this week is owing to the large per centage of Chinese and hospital cases

Daniel B Murphy a brick layer was run over on Howard street, near Tenth early yesterday morning, by the sprinkler of the Omnibus Railroad Company crushing both of his legs and inflicting injuries from which he died at the County Hospital last evening. The deceased was intoxicated and lying asleep on the track

Yield of the Precious Metals.—Thirty years ago the total annual supply of precious metals, in the world, was less than $20,000,000 per annum, which was then sufficient for the necessities of Commerce. It would appear, says a contemporary, that the following is not an exaggerated estimate of the yield of gold and silver in the United States for 1866:

California	$25,000,000
Montana	18,000,000
Idaho	17,000,000
Colorado	17,000,000
Nevada	16,000,000
Oregon	8,000,000
Other sources	5,000,000
Total	$106,000,000

This would be by far the largest yield of the precious metals ever obtained in the United States, in a single year, but from the statements given above there is no reason to believe that the estimate is too high, while Colorado and Montana may possibly largely exceed the amounts assigned them. Add to these the product of Australia, about $20,000,000; of Russia, say $15,000,000; of Mexico and South America, (silver) about $15,000,000; and from all other sources, $5,000,000, and we have the immense quantity of one hundred and sixty-one millions of precious metals, as the total supply for the year of grace, 1866.

Rush of Freight.—Our dispatches this morning from San Francisco, show that there is a full rush of freight this season in the direction of Oregon, Idaho, and Montana, which is scarcely equaled by the spring scenes of the past two seasons. We wonder what effect these things will have upon that portion of the community of San Francisco who have placed more barriers in the way of the development of the resources of this section of the coast than all other influences combined. The people of San Francisco whose blinded preference was shown for the route to Big Bend via Victoria, and to Owyhee via Chico, have really only distorted their own energies; they barely put a check upon our prosperity, and now that the great importance of the Columbia river, as an avenue of trade, is established to them, we trust there will be no longer any necessity for their telling outrageous lies about us, but that they will in future be found to be co-workers with us. There are gentlemen in San Francisco who would not allow themselves to be influenced by the strange ignorance of the majority, and we need not add that by taking a course which in their judgment was right, they are to-day largely the gainers by it.

"Oregonian" Poetry.—It is a favorite theme with some people to be continually writing "poetry" for the papers. One of these particular geniuses resides somewhere about the shady precincts of Oregon City, and has furnished us frequently with ebullitions from his classic quill, which we have heretofore refused, not appreciating the merit his talent deserved. On the occasion of a fatal conflict between a pair of cows this poet of ours recently contributed a few touching lines. We have not the copy at hand, but recollect the final couplet, which ran as follows:

For surely he did take his life,
He doubled up like a jack-knife.

The last production of our poet begins as follows:

There is not a valley as sweet,
As the Willamette valley, where dwells the Web-feet.

We have no space to devote to the entire pome, but as our [illegible]'s assistant seized the copy, we shall look for its reproduction in Harper's Magazine.

Sturgeon Fishing.—In times past, employees of the Hudson's Bay Company, at the posts along the Columbia and Snake rivers, have been known to catch sturgeon of an almost incredibly large size. We were informed in 1863 by one of those old inhabitants who chanced to be traveling in company with us through the Boise regions, that twenty years previous he was stationed at the post near the mouth of the Boise river, and he remembered that, while there a sturgeon was caught which weighed 1,400 pounds. We thought the story somewhat fishy, and took it down with some grains of allowance, but it has since been corroborated, and very likely the old fellow was correct. Prospectors in that section of the country have discovered fish hooks of very large size, well calculated to catch fish of a half ton's weight, and since the region has become civilized, single sturgeon of from 200 or 500 pounds have often been taken. A few days ago the Indians caught one on the bar above Umatilla, which weighed 430 pounds gross. It was more than a supply for that market.

Express to Montana.—A gentleman doing business in Helena, Montana Territory, writes to a friend in this city that the greatest drawback the people have, in their business transactions with Portland, is the lack of facilities to forward and receive [illegible] between the two places. He says: "We have a one-horse express, which runs with great irregularity, and our merchants have no confidence in the concern. I am informed that it is a [illegible] affair, and was put into operation for the sole purpose of deterring more enterprising parties from engaging in the business." A good line of express [illegible] over the route from Portland to [illegible], and if the parties at present engaged in that [illegible] do not give satisfaction we are at a loss to [illegible] Cannot the Walla Walla Statesman, a paper which is perhaps as much interested, and as likely to be [illegible] on the subject, enlighten the public in this [illegible]

A New Play-thing.—The editorial functions of our [illegible] were suspended for thirty minutes yesterday afternoon, in consequence of W[illegible] & Co. sending us one of Wilcox & Jones' patent elastic gymnastic balls. Young America is fairly aroused to the importance of the fact that all children must have one of these new play-things for their amusement and exercise, and W[illegible] & Co. have undertaken to supply the [illegible] in this market. Adults, as well as children, are prone to try their skill with the new invention, which is of a round red ball, attached to an elastic cord, and [illegible] to the finger by a ring, and when thrown from the hand returns to the same, by means of the cord, and the skill of the player is exercised in throwing and [illegible] it thirty times in a minute.

The Montana Post.—On the list of our exchanges there is none we prize more highly than the Weekly Post, of Virginia City, Montana Territory. It has come to us the last few weeks past in a new form, printed on eight pages, and is much improved in appearance, although before enlarged it was equally as good looking as most of papers. The Post is thoroughly Union, and takes an advance step on all matters of public importance in that new country. The great success which has attended it, is accounted for by its excellent management. If any of our readers want a live paper from that region, we advise them to send for the Post, it will be found brim full of intelligence. Terms, $6 per annum.

The New Map of North America.—A private letter from Mr. A. J. Doolittle, who was in Oregon recently [illegible] information for Monk's new continental map of North America, states that in consequence of sickness and the lapse of time [illegible] to make changes on diagrams [illegible] for the new counties of Oregon, Washington Territory and British Columbia, the map has been delayed, but he hopes to be able to furnish it to subscribers in a few months. The proposed map will undoubtedly be the most correct of any published, and people can well afford to wait patiently for a short time to procure it.

Pleasure [illegible].—Last night Capt. Hanson, of the schooner Pacific, from Gray's Bay, gave a party of ladies and gentlemen, to the number of about twenty-five couple, an excursion upon the placid waters of the Willamette, in front of our city. Good music was in attendance, and the [illegible] and singing was a rare treat. Mr. Wm. Watson assisted very much to render the occasion agreeable. When the Captain returns to our port, he will be pleased to repeat the programme, and we are certain that at least all who were present last evening, will be on board early.

Sent Up.—John Bright was again brought before His Honor Judge H[illegible], on a charge of drunkenness, yesterday, and sent to jail for a term of five days.....P. Gunn was treated to six days on a similar charge, and Wm. Thompson received three days.....John Hays struck a Celestial over the head while walking on Alder street, on Saturday evening, and in his haste to escape, ran into the arms of officer Townsend, who kindly took him in, and Judge Hoffman remitted him to the county jail for five days, on examination of the case.

Newspapers, Periodicals, Etc.—Mr. Charles Barrett, of the Newspaper, Periodical Depot, and Book Store, No. 7 Washington street, and No. 78 Front street, has placed upon our table Mad. Demorest's Monthly Magazine, for August, 1866; Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper of July 14th and July 21st; Harper's Weekly for July 21st; the New York Clipper for July 14th; the Comic Monthly for July; the Irish News and Weekly News Letter of July 14th.

Butter—Exports and Imports.—The value of butter imported into British Columbia for the first half of this year from California, Oregon and Washington Territory, amounts to $32,509. The excess of imports from the East to California for the month of July, 1866, over July, 1865, was 1,672 firkins. There was also an excess of 1,540 cans of lard, imported to the coast from Eastern States, in the past month, over a corresponding period of 1865.

A Dastardly Trick.—On Sunday night some person or persons unknown tore down every poster in the city announcing the time of departure for the steamer Montana. This sp[illegible] of work will not be tolerated, and we are authorized to say that Messrs. McCraken, Merrill & Co., Agents of the Anchor Line, will pay a liberal reward to learn who did the deed.

Expected.—Col. Ross, who has of late been stationed at Fort Steilacoom, is expected at Fort Vancouver on the next trip of the steamer Rescue from Monticello. Col. Hayward and Judge Brockway it is also expected will reach this city from their tour of the Puget Sound country, on Wednesday evening.

Emigrating.—We are informed that the Celestials are swarming into Idaho from all quarters, much to the disgust of the Melicans there. The steamer Cascade yesterday took over one hundred of the moon-eyed specimens from this city, who had lately arrived from California.

Soiree Musicale.—The first annual soiree musicale will be given by Prof. Grobe to his scholars this evening at Turn Verein Hall. There will be a distribution of prizes to the smaller pupils at the rooms of Prof. G., at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Cool.—The weather yesterday was very pleasant; neither too hot nor too cool, but about right.

A Blessing for Throat Diseases.—"My communication with the world is very much enlarged by the Lozenge which I now carry always in my pocket; that trouble in my throat (for which the "Troches" are a specific) having made me often a mere whisperer.
N. P. WILLIS.

For a Cough, Cold, an Irritation or Soreness of the Throat, "Brown's Bronchial Troches," will often give instant relief.

STATE ITEMS.

New wheat is beginning to come into market. A large share of the crop will be stored for an advance in price.

Wm. Reed, a carpenter of Albany, fell from a scaffold last Friday and broke his leg.

Doctor J. G. Kraichbaum, of Corvallis, has applied to the proper department for letters patent for a machine having "perpetual-motion." The doctor is confident that he has "struck it." So says the Albany Journal.

The Oregon Central Military Road Company seem to be earnestly pushing their enterprise to completion. They advertise for a large number of workmen and offer cash payments at the end of each month.

From one hill of potatoes, says the Eugene Journal, growing in the garden of S. Ellsworth, thirty "Murphies" were taken. This, though a large yeild, is not an uncommon one for Oregon.

The annual conference of the M. E. Church, which convened at Albany last Wednesday, is still in session. Nearly every circuit in the conference is represented, and the proceedings are reported to be of more than ordinary interest.

Information is wanted, says the Albany Journal, of Edward Bowen, who left Albany in May last in a skiff for Sauvies Island, and has not since been heard of. Bowen came to Oregon about one year ago a private in the regular army. He was honorably discharged from the service at Cape Disappointment, and came to this county sometime last fall or winter. He is about twenty-four years of age, dark hair and eyes, and of medium stature. His relations reside in the State of New York. It is feared that he is drowned. Information regarding him will be thankfully received. Address Journal office, Albany, Oregon.

FROM CARIBOO.

William Creek, July 30.—A blast put into the quartz reef near William Creek, showed gold visible to the naked eye in in nearly every piece.

WILLIAM CREEK.

The Bradley Co. still yields on an average from twenty-five to thirty dollars a day to the hand. The Hyack Co. washed up last week from a portion of their ground sluice 100 ounces. The Tontoine Co. washed up on Thursday, 41 ounces out of the ground sluice; one piece weighed eight ounces and contained but little dross. The Lillooet Co. on Wednesday washed up out of a few buckets of dirt, one hundred and fifty-nine dollars. The California Tunnel Co. washed up for the week 63 ounces. It is reported that the Aurora Co. have struck another lead channel which prospects well. The Cameron Co. had 66 ounces for the week. The Forest Rose Co. washed up 50 ounces for the week. The Prairie Flower Co. cleaned up for the week 137 ounces.

GROUSE CREEK.

The Heron Co. washed up for the week 100 ounces being the result of the work of one man picking. Twenty-two dollars to the pan was obtained out of the gravel last Saturday. The Short Bend Co. are taking out good pay.

LOWHEE CREEK.

The Last Chance Company are taking out good pay. The Red Rock Flume Company did well last week. They took out one piece, 37¾ ounces, value about $410.

STOUT'S GULCH.

High-low-Jack Company continue to average from $14 to $16 a day to the hand. The Jenkins Company washed up for the past two weeks $1,270.

A MINING BOARD.

In response to a petition of the miners of Cariboo an election of twelve members to constitute a Mining Board will take place on Thursday, July 31st. The following is a list of the candidates nominated for election to serve as a Mining Board:—Independent candidates John McLaren, Geo. Duff, J. S. Thompson, P. McLaren, John Bruce, Henry Cotter, James Anderson and Hugh Gilmore. Miners' Candidates Capt. Bell, Henry Coulter, Geo. Shaw, Capt. Ferry, Henry Gribble, Dr. Foster, Jas. Anderson, Samuel Pierce, J. H. Wright, Jonas Williams, Robert Munroe, and Robert Brown.

CANYON CREEK.

Great confidence continues to be felt at Quesnelmouth respecting the richness of the diggings found on this creek. Two boats left last Friday morning containing twelve or fifteen men, some of whom came from below. A pack train with provisions had also started for the mines, a subscription having been raised to defray the expense of cutting a trail.

FROM VICTORIA.

We have files of the Telegraph and Colonist to the 8th. We condense the following news:

The Telegraph says the two men who were turned out of the Bellingham Bay coal mine by the strikers, were in a destitute condition.

Three convicts escaped from the chain-gang at New Westminster, and two of them were recaptured. They overpowered the guard and took to the river, but upsetting, they were retaken.

It is stated as a fact that a gentleman representing a capital of $50,000 arrived by the steamer yesterday, with the intention of investing in this colony.

A man named Kelly was arrested on the 7th for stealing clothes.

The California carried down on the 7th $324,211 46, of which the bank of British Columbia shipped $177,000, the bank of British North America $104,211 46, and Wells, Fargo & Co. $43,000.

James Mullen fell overboard from the California, on the 6th, and was drowned. His body was recovered and sent to San Francisco.

The California took away ninety passengers.

Mr. John Wrigglesworth, one of the proprietors of the London Hotel, died rather suddenly on the 5th, after an illness of only one day.

The steamer James Douglas brought down a man from the ship Riviere as a prisoner sentenced to two months imprisonment for stabbing a ship-mate.

The ship Riviere had sailed for San Francisco with 1,900 tons of Nanaimo coal.

The Alexandria brought down on her last trip 30 passengers and $30,000 for the Bank of British Columbia.

The schooner Indian Maid was sold in Nanaimo, by order of the Vice Admiralty Court, for $1,050.

Quicksilver in a pure state has been found at Leech River. After one day's sluicing a company found one pound and a half in their boxes.

A ledge of gold-bearing quartz is reported to have been lately discovered at Maple Bay, Cowichan, near Mr. Bowman's hotel.

The exports of Vancouver coal for the month of July foot up 2,650 tons.

At Somas Prairie, B. C., eight days ago, a singularly fatal accident occurred. James Taylor, with another man, employed in building a barn, went to sleep on some boards that lay loosely across the joists of the building. During the night, Taylor rolled from the boards, and falling upon the ground, broke his neck. Death resulted instantaneously.

It is said that a California company have obtained a controlling interest in the seam of coal, recently at or near Comox, by Mr. Tohlman, and that they design opening it at once.

FROM COLORADO AND THE PLAINS.

FROM THE PLATTE—INDIAN BATTLE ON THE PLAINS.

The Fort Kearney Herald of the 4th inst. gives the following news:

At Liberty Farm, about fifty miles east of Kearney, twenty Indians, supposed to have been Sioux, attacked four men who were working in the field day before yesterday, with their guns and ammunition at a convenient distance. The whites retreated into the Liberty Farm ranche, making a running fight. The Indians pursued them nearly to the ranche, and then fell back. The Atchison stage of yesterday reports none of the whites injured. Two of the Indians were thought to have been severely wounded.

The Omaha Scouts, an independent Indian company, made up from the Winnebago tribe, passed Kearney on Friday evening last, under command of Captain E. R. Nash, who says the Winnebagoes are equally as good soldiers as the white men. They are just from Powder river valley, Dakota, where they have been stationed for nearly a year, engaged in keeping the hostile tribes away from the new roads that have been opened through that country. They are on their way to Dakota county, Nebraska, to be mustered out of service.

The following trains have organized and passed Kearney: July 3d, Conductor C. E. Hill, 25 wagons, 37 men, 37 revolvers, 17 guns, bound for Denver and Montana. July 5th, Conductor J. Bradford, 31 wagons, 49 men, 34 revolvers, 25 guns, bound for Salt Lake and Virginia City, Nevada. Conductor M. Smith 28 wagons, 37 men, 37 revolvers, 37 guns, bound for Salt Lake, Virginia City and Idaho.

DASTARDLY MURDER AT JULESBURG.

The Denver News of July 11th says: By a letter received yesterday, we learn that Lieut. Geo. K. Jenkins, of the 6th U. S. Vols., on duty at Fort Sedgwick, went to Julesburg on the 4th, when he made an unprovoked assault upon a citizen named Leaverton, killing him by shooting. The murderer is in close confinement at the post, and will be turned over to the civil authorities for trial.

Although the Egyptians could preserve the remains of the dead from decomposition, they could not prevent the teeth of the living from becoming decayed. In this respect modern science is ahead of ancient art, for Sozodont actually embalms the molars and incisors and keeps them perfectly white and spotless.

ATLANTIC CABLE.—Ellsworth & Card-well, 89 First street, have received no dispatch yet from Her Majesty, Queen Victoria, but it is presumed she is interested to know that they continue to furnish the most BEAUTIFUL PHOTOGRAPHS, in this section of the United States. Visitors to this GALLERY will please mention this fact in their dispatches to the Court of St. James.

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.—The stomach is the fountain head of scores of diseases which infest the human system. Indigestion, bad enough, per se, generates diarrhœa, dysentery, faintness, vertigo, palpitation of the heart, general debility, &c. Get rid of it, then, at once, by going through a course of
A palatable and refreshing preparation, which as surely relieves all complaints of the stomach and its dependencies, as the sunshine melts the snow. A course of the medicine may not perhaps be necessary. One bottle frequently accomplishes a complete cure. Sold by druggists and dealers everywhere.

GRAEFENBERG
UTERINE CATHOLICON
If faithfully used according to directions will cure every case of Diabetes, and greatly mitigate the troublesome effects caused by a relaxation of the outlet of the bladder. It is a most successful remedy for Gravel and other diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, and for Female Diseases is unequaled. The Catholicon uniformly cures Prolapsus Uteri, Whites, all Irregularities of the Monthly Turns, Suppression, Incontinence of Urine, Bloating and Dropsical Swellings, and all Diseases of Pregnancy. The specific action of this medicine is immediate and certain upon the Uterine and Abdominal Muscles and Ligaments, restoring them to as healthy a state as those of childhood and youth, so that patients who have used the Graefenberg Company's Uterine Catholicon cannot sufficiently express their gratitude for the relief afforded. The reason why so many die with Consumption is because they neglect to use the proper remedy in season. When the system is first attacked with a cough, [illegible] of the chest, or seated pains in the breast, ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will cause the phlegm to raise, heals the irritated parts and restores the system to health. S. T.—1860.—X.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c., deserve to suffer if they will not try the celebrated

PLANTATION BITTERS,
Which are now recommended by the highest medical authorities, and warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure, and must supercede all other tonics where a healthy, gentle stimulant is required.

They purify, strengthen and invigorate.
They create a healthy appetite.
They are an antidote to change of water and diet.
They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours.
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach.
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation.
They cure Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus.
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache.

They make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya bark, wintergreen, sassafras, roots and herbs, all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix rum. For particulars, see circulars and testimonials around each bottle.

Beware of impostors. Examine every bottle. See that it has our private U. S. Stamp unmutilated over the cork, with plantation scene, and our signature on a fine steel plate side label. See that our bottle is not refilled with spurious and deleterious stuff. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon or in Bulk, is an impostor. Any person imitating this bottle, or selling any other material therein, whether called Plantation Bitters or not, is a criminal under the U. S. Law, and will be so prosecuted by us. We already have our eye on several parties re-filling our bottles, &c., who will succeed in getting themselves into close quarters. The demand for Drake's Plantation Bitters from ladies, clergymen, merchants, &c., is incredible. The simple trial of a bottle is the evidence we present of their worth and superiority. They are sold by all respectable druggists, grocers, physicians, hotels, saloons, steamboats and country stores.

G. VENARD,
CHARTRES COFFEE!
Manufactory Established in June, 1851.
STEAM POWER, NOS. 625 AND 627 FRONT ST.
HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities, CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.
The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

Andrew Johnson and the Democracy One Year Ago

The following article is from the New York World of March 8th, 1865 The World is now chief among Johnson's adulators, and affirms that it "approves his policy, his speeches, his invective, everything in short, that is his" The article is entitled, "Vice President Johnson should he apologize or resign?" and is not a little curious as showing the estimation in which Andrew Johnson was held by the Democracy at that time

Most of the administration organs—the Tribune, Herald, Times, and Evening Post—have condoned by their silence the outrage with which Andrew Johnson, in a public place, on a public occasion, in the performance of a grave public duty, affronted the people of the United States, betrayed his own beastly instincts, his demagogical habits, and his boorish mind The Independent, however, refuses to assist in shielding him from the just punishment of public censure, and insists that it is Mr Johnson's plain duty "to apologize or resign " It demands that "so great an affront to the dignity of the republic shall be made to bear a fit penalty, atonement and warning " The justice and propriety of this d[illegible] are not to be disputed.

We have been informed, and believe, that Senator Sumner—the Chairman of the Senate Committee of Foreign Relations, whose words on such a subject have even more weight than the [illegible] from Secretary Seward would have had, by reason of his personal and political honesty, and his habit of saying what he means—said, after Mr. Johnson's disgusting exhibition of himself on inauguration day, that it would have been better for the confederates to have won a battle than for such a shameful event to have occurred. The material damage to our force and arms, and the moral damage in the eyes of hostile foreign powers, consequent upon a lost battle, are thought by the Chairman of the Senate Committee of Foreign relations to be outweighed by the moral damage done us by Mr Johnson.

We have very little expectation that Mr. Johnson's party will force him to an apology or a resignation The Vice President is as incapable of appreciating the reparation which he owes to the country as he has shown himself to be incapable of appreciating his own insult to the country. He is reported in the Washington telegrams to be indulging in still another debauch Nothing better is to be expected of him. These are the habits of his life time. They were known to be politicians who nominated him they were proclaimed in the face of the party which elected him. Nevertheless he was elected. It is idle to ask the stream to rise higher than its fountain. And, in our judgment, it is a much more melancholy circumstance that Mr Johnson's party last Nov[illegible] invited these insults to the country, and now in March will neither expose nor punish them, than that the insults are given us

If Andrew Johnson had not been drunk on inauguration day, the speech which he would have made would have been less incoherent, but in all other respects it would have been the same. The shallow demagoguery, the affected "plebeian" pride, the real self-contempt, and [illegible] envy of more fortunate men, which it [illegible] have been betrayed, these have been the stock and staple of every speech of Andrew Johnson for years. We say nothing of his political tergiversation It is ridiculous to suppose that he ever had any political principles He was nominated because he had none—but could bellow his bastard "loyalty" loudly We refer now to that which was most degrading in his [illegible] its baseness of his inmost character It is necessary to affirm either that he has been drunk [illegible] made a [illegible] since Mr. Lincoln [illegible] political dishonesty by making him military governor of Tennessee, or else that he is a [illegible] ber, boy, man, tailor, [illegible], governor, or Vice President—the low boor which, with infinitely [illegible], in the last presidential contest we [illegible] to declare him to be. His [illegible] are all alike. This last one in the Senate chamber was no exception, save in its incoherence. Read his speech on hearing the news of his own nomination at Baltimore. Let our readers [illegible] for themselves. It was published at the time [illegible] with the very same vulgarity, the same demagoguery, the same low-lived [illegible] after hearing the news of [illegible] the one, other, yet the same as that of Saturday—vulgar, low-bred, boorish. There, too, he [illegible] his humble birth with "plebeian" pride and [illegible] envy As if he were the first man in this Democratic Republic who had [illegible] from narrow circumstances to the high [illegible] of the land! As if Jackson and Webster and scores of others had not come [illegible] as he, who never spoke their [illegible] and permitted others to speak of them, except in language becoming to their real greatness [illegible] their own praise to devolve [illegible]

It is this which is melancholy in the present situation of the Vice Presidency, and for this no apology or resignation is either possible or [illegible] his, for it is the victorious Republican party which would need to apologize to the country or resign [illegible]

The following is from the World of July 4th, 1866, and is the closing part of [illegible] review of Forney's late [illegible] It is curious also when contrasted with the f[illegible] ing, as showing the d[illegible] the utter dishonesty of those who are supporting Andrew Johnson. After having [illegible] vituperation which the above article contains, the World now has the face to [illegible] what it calls the "feculent scurrility" of the language towards the President! After [illegible] said that drunken debaucheries were "the habits with him of a lifetime," it [illegible] the occurrence of the 4th of March [illegible] the "only spot on a life of a strict and uniform sobriety!" We quote from [illegible]

The chapter of Forney's [illegible] long, frothy, and venomous tirade against the President, who is denounced as [illegible] traitor to the party that elected him, and to the country. "It is not the first time," says Forney to the President, "I have [illegible] conflict with a faithless and corrupt Executive, but it is the first time I have ever been [illegible] upon to contemplate and to expose such [illegible] as yours." We cannot descend to follow him in the [illegible] ing of feculent scurrility which this [illegible] introduces. It cannot injure its object; it only excites loathing against its author. As a specimen of his baseness, he threatens to retaliate on the President by a minute secret history of what occurred on inauguration-day. A man who thinks it fair warfare to rake up the details of an isolated occurrence of that kind, which nobody recollected to the disadvantage of the President, [illegible] everybody knew it to be the only spot on a life of a strict and uniform sobriety—a m[illegible] who is capable of such [illegible] against the Chief Magistrate of his own [illegible] to the recognition and [illegible]

LAWS

Of the Washington Quartz Mining District, Warrens, Idaho [illegible]

Sec. 1. This district shall [illegible] the name of the "Washington Gold [illegible] Mining District," and shall be [illegible] as follows. Commencing at the south-east [illegible] of Meadow Creek District; thence [illegible] easterly along the line of Meadow Creek District to its south-east corner, thence down the western line of said District to the mouth of Elk Creek, thence up Salmon river to the junction of the north and south forks of said river, thence up the south fork to the dividing waters of said south fork and the Payette country, and from thence to the place of beginning.

Sec. 2 The locators of quartz [illegible] District shall record the same with the Recorder of their respective county, within ten days after location, unless located more than thirty miles from the place of recording, in which case twenty days shall be allowed, and the County Recorder shall be allowed one dollar for recording each quartz claim, and making the [illegible] and indexing, but in no case shall said fees exceed the sum of five dollars upon any set of claims

Sec 3. Transfers of quartz claims shall be duly acknowledged by a proper officer, and recorded by the County Recorder

Sec 4 That any person or persons who may hereafter discover any quartz lead or lode, shall be entitled to one claim thereon by right of discovery, and one claim each by right of location, Provided, That no person shall be entitled to hold more than one claim by right of location on any one lead or lode, and that no person shall be entitled, or have the right to locate or to hold by location, or to have recorded, any claim or claims on any lead or lode unless he be a resident or inhabitant of this Territory.

Sec 5 Each claimant shall be entitled to hold by location, two hundred feet on any lead or lode in the District, with all its dips, angles and spurs, off shoots, out crops, depths, widths, variations, and all the minerals and other valuables therein contained

Sec 6 The locators of any lead, lode or ledge in the District, shall be entitled to hold, on each side of the land ledge or lode, located by him or them, fifty feet Any lateral veins lodes or leads, bearing minerals, within the space of the said fifty feet on each side of the main ledge, shall be considered as claimed by, and entirely belonging to the locator or locators of a lead and his or their assigns, and part and parcel of the same

Sec 7 The locators of any quartz claim or claims, on any lead or lode, shall at the time of locating said claim or claims, place a substantial stake, not less than three inches in diameter at each end of the claim so located provided, that where two or more claims are located together and recorded in one notice, then the aforesaid stakes shall be placed at each end of the claims so located in one notice On said stake on each end of said claim or claims, shall be placed a notice in writing, and said notice shall contain the date of the location of said claim or claims, the name or names of the locator or locators the name of the lead or lode on which said claim or claims are located, the number of feet so claimed by each of said locators, the distance to the nearest end of said claim or claims from the discovery stake, the direction as nearly as possible from the discovery stake, and the direction said claim or claims extend, as nearly as may be, from the point designated as it or their commencement And when more than one person joins in one notice in locating said claims, shall state the actual number of feet claimed, and the portion of the ground so claimed by each person so locating

Sec. 8 Two or more persons may locate or take claims together in a body by joining in a notice specifying the number of claims so located and the name of each person so joining in such location being written under the notice, but the claims so located shall not exceed two hundred feet for each person so locating, and said claims shall, on said notice, be numbered and designated as segregated claims, and shall designate the position of the said segregated ground in said claims so located in one notice, including, when necessary, a discovery claim, except when it may be necessary to include a claim by right of discovery and the notice shall then state in whose name or names said discovery claim is located The persons so joining in one notice shall be considered as tenants in common so soon as the work herein after required to be done shall be fully finished and performed The work hereinafter required to be performed on a quartz claim to entitle the locator, or his assigns, to hold the same as real estate, may be performed on any one of the claims so held under one notice, Provided, it be equal in value to twenty dollars for each and every two hundred feet held under one notice including the discovery claim; but when any claims have been located by two or more persons in one notice, so soon as the work required by this section has been performed on said claim or claims, to wit: Twenty dollars worth of work for each and every two hundred feet included in the notice locating said claims, the said claimants shall be deemed tenants in common, and shall be subject to all the rights, privileges, and benefits, responsibilities and liabilities of tenants in common.

Sec. 9. Quartz claims located and recorded in accordance with this law, shall entitle the person or persons so locating and recording to hold the same as real estate to the use of himself, his heirs and assigns, Provided, That within one year from and after date of recording, he or they shall cause to be performed twenty dollars worth of work for each and every claim of two hundred feet of said lead or lode, said work to consist of the following The stripping of the lead or lode, sinking shafts, excavating of tunnels, obtaining machinery and preparing material for working said lead or lode in good faith

Sec. 10. Any person or persons who shall wilfully and maliciously tear down or destroy any notice, posted on quartz claims, or tear up or destroy any stakes marking quartz claims shall, upon conviction thereof, be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined in any sum not less than twenty-five dollars, or not exceeding one hundred dollars, or by not less than thirty days, nor more than six months imprisonment in the county jail, or by both such fine and imprisonment; and any justice of the peace in this District shall have jurisdiction of such offenses

Sec. 11 Any person or persons desiring to preserve or perpetuate testimony as to the sufficiency of the amount of work done on any claim or claims to entitle him or them to hold them as real estate according to the provisions of section nine of these laws may take two disinterested persons to view such work, who shall carefully examine the same, immediately after which they shall go before the County Recorder or other officer by law authorized to administer oaths in the county, and take and subscribe an affidavit containing first, a description of the location of the claim or claims on which the work is performed, the character and value of such work, and the date when they viewed the same, which affidavit shall be filed by the County Recorder and carefully preserved. Such affidavit or certified copies of the [illegible] the certificate and seal of the County Recorder, who has custody of the original affidavit or affidavits, shall in any Court in the Territory be prima facie evidence of the character and [illegible] of labor performed on the claim or claims which are described in such affidavit or affidavits. The Recorder shall receive a fee of fifty cents for filing and preserving the affidavits required by this section.

Sec. 12. Any person or persons who may desire to run a tunnel into any hill or mountain for the purpose of discovering or working mineral bearing quartz leads or lodes, shall be entitled to hold one hundred feet each way from the line of the tunnel on every lead, or lode so discovered Provided, the said lode has not been previously claimed and held according to law, and said person or persons shall also be entitled to hold two hundred feet square at the entrance of the said tunnel or tunnels, for building, dumping or other [illegible] necessary purposes; provided, further, that nothing in this section shall be so construed as to invalidate the vested rights of other persons.

Sec. 13. There shall be a Recorder of this District [illegible], whose duty it shall be to take charge of the laws of this District, keep a correct record of all the claims located on all leads, or lodes [illegible] located in this district, and immediately after making a record of any quartz claim or claims [illegible] the record of this District, it shall be duty of the Recorder to send a copy of the notice of the claim or claims recorded to the County Recorder, and have it recorded by him, in accordance with the Territorial law, and for the recording of each claim in the records of this District, and the transmission of the notice to the County Recorder, the Recorder of this District shall have a fee of ($1 50) one dollar and fifty cents, for each claim so recorded, which includes the fee of the County Recorder.

Sec. 14. All claims located prior to the passage of these laws, shall be recorded in the records of this district within ten days after their adoption; and all claims located subsequent shall be recorded within five days from the date of location, in the records of this District.

Sec. 15. These laws are to take effect, and be in full force from and after the date of their passage.
